

BROWDER - FLETCHER WEDDING AT LEXINGTON

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Baptist Church on Sunday morning, Sept. 5th, at 9:30, contracting parties being Miss Gladys Browder of our city and Mr. Baylis J. Fletcher of Giddings.

These young people attended Baylor University together, the groom having received his degree on Friday before his marriage. He was private Secretary of President Brooks for several years.

The church was tastily decorated with palms and ferns and white cut flowers consisting of hydrangeas, dahlias and roses; in the center of a beautiful art square the bridal party stood under a large wedding bell. The ushers, Messrs. Marion Browder and Roy Fletcher, accompanied the bride and groom to the altar, being preceded by Rev. W. W. Burr of Giddings, who performed the ceremony, making it quite impressive, using the ring service.

The beautiful strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus were played by Mrs. H. F. Schlossman.

The bride wore a going-away gown of Navy blue French serge with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of tube roses and ferns. The groom wore a Navy blue suit of serge.

They left immediately following the ceremony for Corpus Christi where they will be in attendance on the Teacher's Institute; from there they go to the Rio Grande Valley where they will both teach in the Pharr Section.

Miss Minnie Biggers caught the bridal bouquet which was thrown from the car window.

Miss Gladys Browder is the daughter of Mrs. Kate Browder of Lexington and was in the service of the government, being located in Washington City and later in San Antonio, but resigned her position to enter Baylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher were the recipients of quite a number of handsome and useful gifts.

Their many friends wish for them a long, happy and prosperous journey on life's matrimonial sea.
