

Ethel Lorenz and James Throckmorton Exchange Vows

Miss Ethel Lorenz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lorenz of Giddings, was united in marriage with James L. Throckmorton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Throckmorton, Sunday, Nov. 19, at 5 p. m. at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Giddings.

Two baskets of gladioli and palm fern flanking the altar and candlebra, and a bouquet of gladioli on the altar were the church decorations.

The double-ring, candle-light ceremony was performed by the Rev. Max Studtmann.

Marvin Tschatschula sang "O Perfect Love" accompanied by H. W. Stroebel presiding at the organ, who also furnished the traditional wedding marches.

The bride entered with her father. She was gowned in white slipper satin, with a yoke of chantilly lace. A peplum of satin created a gathered effect of chantilly lace in the front of the gathered skirt. The flared skirt flowed into a cathedral train. Long sleeves tapered to petal points over her wrists. Her fingertip veil, edged in chantilly lace, was held by a sweetheart coronet of orange blossoms and net. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white pom-pom mums, tied with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Delbert Gersch, matron of honor, wore a gown of American beauty moire taffeta, fashioned with a fitted sleeveless bodice, dipping to a point at the waist front and back. The sweetheart neckline was framed with a wing collar. She wore long American beauty moire taffeta mitts and a half-hat of the same material. She carried a basket-shaped bouquet of rose colored mums, tied with bows of pink tulle.

Miriam Tate served as bridesmaid. She was gowned identical to the matron of honor.

Delbert Gersch served as best man.

Robert Lorenz Jr. was groomsmen.

J. A. Burgdorf Jr. and Melvin Pietsch were ushers.

A reception was held at the Immanuel Lutheran Parish

House, where refreshments were served to approximately 125 guests.

The bride's table was covered with a lace table cloth, decorated with white tapers, and the bridal bouquet was placed on a reflector. There was the traditional wedding cake, with a bride and bridegroom, backed by two wedding bells.

Eola Nell Tate registered the guests.

Members of the house party were Carma Jean Heyser, Elvie Jean Mutschink, Frieda Kilian, La Verne Mutschink, Vivian Spacek, and Mrs. Melvin Pietsch.

For travel, the bride chose a rust color two piece suit with black accessories, and a white pom-pom mum corsage.

The couple is now making their home in Giddings, where both are employed.

The bride and bridegroom attended and graduated from Giddings High School with honors. The bride also attended Blinn College for one year.
