

Shirley McIntosh, Bill Williams Married Here Sunday, September 20

The marriage of Miss Shirley Ann McIntosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claud McIntosh to William Williams was solemnized Sunday in a double ring ceremony at the local Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Norman Dow officiated before a background of greenery with floor basket arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and candelabra with white tapers.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams of Oliphant, Pa., the bridegroom is stationed at Bergstrom Air Force Base. She is a Giddings High School graduate and a 1933 graduate of Seton Hospital School of Nursing.

Miss Jane McIneosh played prenuptial music, and Mrs. Lynn Jones and Don Slocumb Jr., were soloists.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a navy orlon suit with matching accessories and a dusty rose hat trimmed with seed pearls.

Mrs. Truman Dungan, the bride's sister, was her only attendant and was dressed in a brown suit with brown velvet hat and matching accessories.

Truman Dungan served as best man and ushers were Quintus McIntosh and Milton Tate Jr.

The couple will make Austin their home.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McIntosh of Temple, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Proske of Brenham, Mrs. A. M. Howard of Robstown, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Justice of Paige, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Justice, Mr. and Mrs. John Shell and Miss Doris Melcher all of Austin.
