

The Giddings News

March 11, 1921

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY

Miss Maggie Folkes entertained with a dinner party Wednesday evening, February 15th, announcing the approaching marriage of her cousin Louise York to Mr. Andy Rowe.

The reception rooms were prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns. The names of the guests were written on tiny red hearts which hung from the large Valentine box in the living room. Unique favors were tied to the Valentine of all except Mrs. Raymond Brewer upon whose heart was written the following:

This great heart is really two great hearts blended together. March 1 is to be the date they will be one forever.

Andy is coming to get Louise - he is really a very fine fellow. This is why I ask you here the secret to tell you.

The dining room was lovely with its decorations of American Beauty roses. Attached to the place cards were ribbons at the end of which were cards revealing the fate of each guest.

A most luscious four course dinner was served - covers laid for the following: Misses Rubie Scarborough, Rubie Rousseau, Vere Hillsman, Blanche and Lillian Hooper, Bessie Black and the honoree; Mesdames Lawrence Knox, Horace Bishop, Raymond Brewer, Orrin Bowers.

The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Tate and Mrs. Eason.