

The Giddings News

February 10, 1922

YORK-SIMMANG

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season occurred at the home of the bride last Saturday at 4 P. M. when Miss Gertrude Marie Simmang became Mrs. Milton York. Rev. W. W. Burr officiating. It was strictly a home affair with only relatives of the contracting parties and a few most intimate friends present.

Miss Maude Heck played the Mendelssohn's Wedding March and the minister, followed by the contracting parties, entered the spacious parlors of the Simmang home. The nuptials were soon celebrated, and congratulations poured upon them from every one present.

The bride was dressed in a traveling suit of poiree twill, midnight blue, with hat to match. The young people left immediately for Fort Worth for a visit to the sister of the groom Mrs. Louise Rowe. A flying trip was made to catch the north bound Sap at Lincoln, so as to avoid the threatened showers of rice at Giddings, but it is understood that some friends were kind (?) enough to shower them at Lincoln.

Quite a number of useful presents were received by the young people before they left Giddings. Mr. and Mrs. York expected to return this morning and will occupy apartments over the York drug store where they will be "at home" to their friends after that date.

No introduction to the splendid young couple is needed at Giddings, but for the sake of some who may not know we will say that Mr. York is the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. York of this place, that he is a graduate of the State school of pharmacy and is now a member of the firm of York and Hiescher, popular druggist of this city. Miss Simmang is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Simmang, her father is one of our popular attorneys.

The young people themselves are widely known in this section of the State.

The following guests were present, besides the immediate families of the contracting parties: Mrs. Simmang of San Antonio, grandmother to the bride. Mrs. Emma Rudland of DeWitt, sister of Mr. Simmang. Mrs. Herman Earlywine of Houston, daughter of Mrs. Rudland. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fields, Miss Maude Heck and Mr. Will Hester,-- all of Giddings.

The News joins a host of friends at Giddings and elsewhere, in extending to this splendid young couple the greatest felicity possible; may long life, love and friends be theirs, is our wish as well as that of all sincere friends.