G. A. Zochs Wed in Taylor, Make Home Here

TAYLOR, Feb. 20 (ANS) — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Arthur Zoch are making their home at 915 West 2nd Street in Austin after their marriage here last Sunday in the Trinity Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Zoch, the former Miss Barbara Nell Bass, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey L. Bass of Fort Worth. She is a sophomore geology student at the University of Texas, and was in Arlington State College in Arlington for her freshman year. She studied French in Laval University in Quebec last summer.

Mr. Zoch, son of the Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Zoch of Taylor, attended Texas Lutheran College in Seguin after his graduation from Thrall High School. He is a senior radio broadcasting major at the University of Texas, where he expects to graduate in June. He is a member of the Men's Independent Campus Association at the University, while his bride is a member of the Women's Independent Campus Association.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the father of the bridegroom. The church was decorated in silver and pink. C. Reginald Taylor played the organ, and accompanied the soloist of Miss Anne Louise Zoch, only sister of the bridegroom.

Miss Barbara Withers of Fort Worth attended the bride as maid of honor. Her pale pink gown of antique tulle was made with a fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations showered with silver streamers.

Miss Rebecca Sandlin of Fort Worth and Miss Dorothy Dietrick of Houston were the bridesmaids. They were dressed like the maid of honor and carried bouquets of pink carnations showered with silver streamers.

Steven Lee Delmar of Sao Paulo, Brazil, attended the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Richard Fiers of Austin and Gene Biehneyer of Thrall and Lampasas; ushers were Donald Lane and Richard Schrank, who also lighted the candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore slipper satin accented with Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was of lace with a scalloped neckline outlined in seed pearls and filled in with a yoke of 27000 Hushe. Her full skirt featured a scalloped hemline. She wore a fingerless veil of imported tulle and carried a white Bible and a colonial bouquet of red roses tied with white satin ribbons. She also carried a handkerchief, in past lace, made by her great grandmother, and carried by the bride's mother and two cousins at their wedding.

Mrs. Bass chose navy tulle for her gown, matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Zoch, mother of the bridegroom, wore mauve lace with satin trim, and her corsage was of white carnations.

The wedding reception was held at 707 Alton Street, where decorations in the bride's chosen colors. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's cake was a fruit cake, which he and his bride plan to save for their first anniversary. The dining table was laid in white Irish linen with handmade lace trim, and pink tapers in crystal holders were lighted for the evening hour.

Members of the house party included Mrs. Otto James Delightwell, a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Melton Bertie and Miss Jo Lenna McGee, all of Fort Worth; Mrs. Victor Franz, Mrs. Otto Frenck, Mrs. Carl Kasse, Mrs. W. W. Berry, Mrs. Ivan Kellier and Miss Lucille Helmsmeyer, all of Taylor.

When Mr. and Mrs. Zoch left for their home in Austin, the bride was wearing a pink lace suit with navy accessories.
